

RURAL TEST TO TREAT BEST PRACTICES

The MDHHS Bureau of EMS, Trauma and Preparedness is partnering with the Michigan Center for Rural Health to share best practices in Rural Test to Treat Initiatives.

Test to Treat programs allow people to get tested for COVID-19 at the site and, if they are positive, they will have the opportunity to speak to a health care provider on-site to determine their eligibility for available outpatient treatments. Patients who receive a prescription can have it filled onsite or at a nearby location.
